TIMES-VIRGINIAN
IN THE HEART OF THE DARK TOBACCO BELT
APPOMATTOX, VIRGINIA
ESTABLISHED 1892
CALVIN H. ROBINSON ..... EDITOR AND PUBLISHER
Member Virginia Press Association

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at Appomattox, Va., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Address all correspondence to the Times-Virginian, Appomattox, Va. Subscription Rate: $1.50 a year, 75c six months, 50c per quarter, 5c per copy. Payable in advance. Advertising rates on request.

Editorial Comment

"Nowhere To Go"

In the beginning of the war the Russians were defeated. But they kept on fighting because their country was big enough for them to retreat and regroup. They could afford to swap ground for time.

In like manner the English armies were defeated in France and lost their equipment at Dunquerke. But the British kept on in the war because to get had somewhere they could go to regroup and re-equip. Even had the Germans overrun the British Isles they would not have thereby won the war. The British navy and its government could have retired to Canada, and come back fighting with the Yanks.

But, not so with Germany. When her armies are defeated on German soil, she is through.

Population Density

It would be hard for us in America to visualize the thickness of the population in many countries of the world. The other day we took the density of population in one typical European country and applied that "density per square mile" to Appomattox County. We found that we our county as thickly populated, we would have 125,000 people!

Europe and parts of Asia are greatly over-populated. America has not yet reached the limit of the number of people it can support, over great areas of the world are under-populated. Off-hand, we would say that South America, Australia, Canada, and Siberia could support proper populations. So with Alaska and other smaller climates.

You have to understand the basic facts about a country to understand its problems and appreciate its conduct in the affairs of the world.

Should Senator Glass Resign?

The esteem in which Carter Glass is so universally held, makes it most difficult to discuss the question of whether or not his advanced age makes it advisable for him now to resign from he United States Senate.

We have noted the recent discussion of this question in the Richmond Times-Dispatch, and the article the Richmond paper quotes from the Staunton News-Leader.

It appears to us that it is poor taste for anyone to suggest that Mrs. Carter Glass be asked to preside over her husband to resign. We would not think of making such a request.

Our stand is that the people of Virginia knew Carter Glass' age when they elected him a another term. They knew that due to his advanced age, he could hardly be active during that term. Knowing all this, he faced no opposition! He made no campaign for re-election. The people, with their eyes open, decided to have a Senator pressing close to 90. Did anyone expect a man nearly ninety years old to be present and active in the Senate? Surely, it is poor grace now for any complaint to be made! If Senator Glass lives through his full six year term without once setting foot in the Senate chamber or casting a single vote: that's what the people of Virginia voted for.

In a democracy, you most often get exactly what you vote for.

If the point is made that the people of Virginia re-elected Carter Glass because they were offered no choice in the matter, then the fault, if any, lies with those who usually "bring out" candidates, but only indirectly, for if that is the state of affairs, we, the voters, are still responsible.

Recapture of Manila

The recapture of Manila will gladden the hearts of Americans. It is apparan that General MacArthur has waged a well-planned and well-executed campaign in the Philippines. However, all the credit does not belong to MacArthur. The American Navy made the waters around the Philippines too hot for Japanese shipping. The enemy could not commit themselves to a major land battle when they found that their supply ships could not get through. We were able to make landings and support a land offensive because we controlled the air and the sea.

In the liberation of the Philippines there is glory for all, and the victory is a tribute to American teamwork.

A War-Time Message To Pulpwood Producers

"I learned today some help shortages which have hampered it run our mines in wartime service ... and revenue to our farmers."

The statement is taken from a varie-

What Other Papers Say:

Misery Overtakes The Hun

From Winchester Evening Star

There is a great deal that is familiar in the reports that come from Germany through the media of radio broadcasts and information gathered by neutrals. . . .

. . . . a new setting and with a new cast of principals. Another important change is loss of its power to arouse sympathy.

Eastern Germany, according to apparantly authentic reports, has been plunged into turmoil and terror by the mass evacuations resulting from the war on the "sacred" soil of the reich. Cities and villages have been deserted. . . . Great numbers crowd into the ruins of Berlin, suffering from hunger and cold and sickness. . . .

It is felt reason that the Germans feel sorry for themselves. "No people," laments one Berlin correspondent, "can take the misery of our suffering, our heartrending grief, our hunger. . . . In the midst of a once clean and sheltered life, war has overtaken us with all its filth and misery."

What ironic amusement such self-pity must inspire in the Poles, the Dutch, who saw their kin buried in the ruins of Rotterdam, destroyed simply as an act of wanton vandalism, the men, whose wives were machine-gunned by planes as they fled in the path of the panzers, the Czec's, the Greeks, the Belgians and the Norwegians!

War, with its filth and misery, has last overtaken the Germans. The only unfortunate aspect of this visitation of retribution is the fact that it has been so long deferred!

A Great Achievement

From Baltimore Evening Sun

The official opening of the new Ledo-Burma road is an event of first-rate importance, even at a time when the Russian armies are moving upon German soil and when our troops on Luzon are breaking down a keystone of Japanese inner defenses. For with the 1,000-mile route to Kunming in China ready to receive truck convoys, the great Asiatic member of the United Nations will be able to renew and replenish its military power at just the moment when the Japanese enemy is being hard hit on sea and land and in the air in every other quarter of the war.

"CAT CABOODLE"

Associated Newspapers With Features

PRANCED TO A POOH

During these long winter evenings you're cutting rugs like crazy when you're pushin' the feetin' with the prince of somebody's fraternity and the queen of somebody's sorority at the new exclusive ice skating club soda fountain sleuths have been doing some plain and fancy snooping for us. In case you're interested, here's how you're besting your feet:

Hands on Hips—Place!—The new stance for the dance is this: The boy places his "heeling" hand on his partner's left hin instead of on her shoulder and holds her sideways. There's nothing like dancing on the bias, we always say.

Three Quarter Time — We've checked from coast to coast and we're pleased to report that the waltz is coming back—with improvements. You never saw such dipping and gliding! Old Vienna was never like this!

Walkie Talkie — Here's a good name for that popular style of dancing that is really nothing more than walking side by side, arm in arm. Your other arm swings clean and free, of course. When S.Ds (Steady Dancers) demonstrate this style they look into each other's eyes with that swoon-goon expression.

In fact, there is a very real sense, mean "Cheek to Cheek"—a style reserved for Goosome Twoosmes, only. (Goosome is Sadieserv for affectionate.)

Dicty Dices—You can't mention dancing without thinking of music, so, in case you'd like to check up on free matters, a favorite by according is Betty Hutton's "His Rocking Horse Ran Away" and a swoonation among the sweet-a-d-low couples is Frankie's "I'll Be Seeing You."

* * *

TRUE TEEN

You're been swooning about that certain boy for months. But you're basmart about it. Instead of telling all your friends that you were in a drift about him, instead of giving him the old Sad Sack, you're cuter than ever—instead of wearing your initial on your sleeve—you did your swooning in private; you dated other boys; you were almost normally even-keel to him. So you. NOW, suddenly, it's happened! He dates you every Saturday night. He dances the last dance of every party, he sits next to you at the table. It won't it worth waiting for?

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

By the Pound: Reports Harry Gilbert: "When I arrived in Wichita recently, at the railroad station, the driver of a taxicab, a very attractive young woman, assigned me to the farthest corner of the rear seat. Hardly was I inside when the cab lilted violently to the right, the reason being that Ed ('Strangler') Lewis, the wrestling champion, had put his foot on the running board. Without any difficulty, Lewis hoisted his 300 or more pounds of massiveness and inserted himself beside me, the two of us filling the seat completely. Then the driver looked inside to see if she couldn't squeeze in another passenger and thus make her trip more profitable. Acknowledging the inevitable, she closed the door and the ancient vehicle creaked and groaned its way uptown. When we reached our hotel, Lewis gave the girl $1 which was exactly double the fare."

* * *

Around the Town: Miriam Hopkins, who started out to be a ballerina until a broken ankle forced her into the straight dramatic path, looking wistfully at the marquee posters of the Ballet International. . . . Melody Thompson, the cigarette girl who became an MGM starlet, browsing around in one of those red-fronted marts—a $3,000,000 baby in 9 and 10 cent stores. . . . Gene Buck making slow progress through the empyrean of empyrean so many friends stop him for a chat. . . . Bob Burns, the Arkansas traveler, traveling Broadway and walking as if pavements made his feet hurt. . . . Mary Martin, looking cuter than ever in a trim gray outfit, peering into a toy store undoubtedly with her thoughts on her little daughter. . . . Maggi McNellis, who always seems to be in a hurry these days, hurrying to keep a luncheon appointment at Gilmore's. . . .

Cuff Notes: Benny Malchioli, one of the most efficient waiters in the Waldorf-Astoria's Wedgewood room, is such an exact double for the Voice that his friends call him Benny Sinatra. . . . Two of our favorite young folks, Sylvia Diamond, account executive for David O. Alber Associates, and Peter Manasse, an importer, whose wedding was set for next month, surprised their friends by slipping away recently and having a quiet ceremony performed. A lot of happiness for them both. . . . Pleasant news that Lucille and Harry Ryan of Detroit are the parents of a pretty little daughter whose name is Sheila Diane Ryan. . . . The first thing Leopold Stokowski told Leo Reisman when they met after Reisman's recent return to New York, was that he had liked Reisman's recording of "St Louis Blues" and would like another. . . . that recording was made more than 15 years ago.

Faces & Places: Rotund balladeer Burl Ives comparing abdominal buy windows with rotund Toots Shor at the latter's food emporium and remarking, "After all, what are fat people—thin people with flesh?" . . . Dale Belmont, the "girl with the blue velvet voice," looking at a Fifth avenue window display of blue velvet. . . . Homer Croy, who needn't worry about putting on weight, strolling Park avenue and in the next block, Fulton Oursler, who isn't thin, getting a bit of sunshine. . . . Margaret Carson, entirely too attractive to be a press agent, going into the 39th street entrance of the Metropolitan. . . . She's the Met's official tub thumper this season. . . . An Ohio girl, she carries a buckeye which came from near Toledo, her home town.

* * *

This & That: Les Martin, Buddy Powers and George Mills, known to theater-goers as "The Three Stowaways," have been released from the army after serving Uncle Sam three years. . . . They will play the lead in the new revue, "Ex-G I s on Parade," which Barney Ross will head. . . . All members of the cast will be men who have served in World War II. . . . Harry Joachim, radio's youngest gag writer, sends this message to women who work in defense plants: "Never carry your welding torches into a crowded bus or street car—you may deprive some man of his seat." . . . Phil Baker notes that many of our desires are often nipped in the budget. . . . While Xavier Cugat avers that his osteopath kneads patients.

Addenda: Says Brother Ned, writing about their dream-come-true which he and Mrs. Nelson named Man-Son Farm: "When you come to visit us next summer, we will get up a little early so that you will eat melons with the dew still on them and the corn will be just 30 seconds from the stalk to the kettle." Who was it who said "Time Flies"?

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

Son Inscribes Bomb To Flying Father

NEW YORK.—In a childish scrawl, seven-year-old Patrick O'Donnel wrote "Good luck, Dad," on a 4,000-pound blockbuster bomb destined for delivery to his father, Brig. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr. Patrick, whose father led one of the B-29 missions against Tokyo, was guest of honor at a war bond rally.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

BY HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for February 11

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

JESUS AND THE TWELVE

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 10:1, 5-8; 11:1; 28-30.

GOLDEN TEXT—Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.—John 15:14.

Service for Christ has not always been as impressive and effective as it should be because it has lacked conviction and spiritual power. God did not intend it to be the weak and faltering thing that it often is because of our failure to go God's way.

The sending out of the twelve has special significance, and yet it brings forth principles which have a bearing on the activities of every believer in Christ.

I. Visitors in the Home of Christ (Luke 1, 5-8).

The twelve disciples had already been called into the Lord's service. They had been with Him for a while and were about to be prepared for the service which was ahead. It was a time of commissioning and empowerment for service.

God calls men today to serve Him in fact, there is a very real sense in which every Christian is called to serve. Let no one try to excuse himself from that responsibility and privilege.

To some comes a special call to leave their accustomed daily work and launch out into a broader service for Christ. When that time comes, we may go forth with the assurance that the power of a divine Saviour goes with us. The twelve disciples had some special power which we do not have and do not need. God suits the power to the need, and that means that in every circumstance we may look to Him with assurance, and go on.

One of our difficulties in dealing with such matters as spiritual power is that we interpret the things of the realm of the spirit by physical standards and measurements. We are quick to say "I cannot" on the basis of our logical human reasoning when an appreciation of the power of God which is operative on our behalf would make us say with confidence, "I can." But, sadly enough, having left God out of our reckoning, we find that it is indeed true that we cannot.

Serving Christ means doing so in His power, and with His grace upon us. Nothing less will do! Nothing more is needed!

II. Declare a Divine Revelation (11:1, 25-27).

The messenger's responsibility and importance are largely determined by the nature of the message he has to convey. Particularly is that true where the message must pass through his personality and thus be proclaimed. The nations of the earth choose their great men to be their ambassadors and grant them full power.

The glorious thing about being a messenger for God is that we carry no ordinary communication. What we have to present is far above the most important message any earthly ambassador could possibly have to carry.

We, the children and servants of God through Jesus Christ, have something direct from the throne of God. He has revealed it (v. 25), and it seemed good in His sight to give it to those who had the childlike faith to believe Him.

God's revelation is hidden from those who are wise in their own conceits, who are too proud to come by way of humility and faith. That God, some of the wise and might of this world have been willing to become as little children and learn at the feet of Jesus.

The encouraging thing about it is that the door is open to the simplest believer to trust God, to take the revelation of God's truth in His word, and give it out with grace and power.

III. Extend a Divine Invitation (11:28-30).

"Come"—what a blessed word for the needy and sinful! They are not to be shut out by their sin, nor to be hindered by their weakness. The door is open, and the invitation is to come. Why not respond?

To whom are they to come? To Jesus. There are times when men can help us, when friends or church officers or the pastor can give us an uplifting word of counsel and encouragement. But for salvation, for a real lifting of the burden from the shoulders of those "that labor and are heavy laden," there is no one like Jesus.

We are privileged to invite people to Jesus, knowing that if they "learn" of Him (v. 29), they will not only have their loads lifted and find rest, but will enter into a blessed yoke, fellowship with Him in life and service.

His is a wholesome or a kindly yoke. That is the meaning of "easy" in verse 30. It is not always easy to serve Christ, but being yoked with Him in a kindly fellowship of service makes the burden light.

The world is full of tired and discouraged people. We who know Christ have the adequate answer to their need. Shall we not go in His name to present the truth to them and invite them to come to Christ?

Need a LAXATIVE? Black-Draught is 1-Usually prompt 2-Usually thorough 3-Always economical
25 to 40 doses only 25¢
Get BLACK-DRAUGHT
CAUTION: USE ONLY AS DIRECTED

The GENERAL TIRE
THE GENERAL SAYS:
INSPECTION:
REPAIRS:
RECAPPING:
BY TIRE EXPERTS WHO KNOW HOW
Lynchburg Grage
General Tire Distributors
600 Church St. Lynchburg, Va.

There's Benefit in Better Fit
Consult Your EYE PHYSICIAN Then See Your GUILD OPTICIAN
A. G. Jefferson
Ground Floor Allied Art. Bldg.
LYNCHBURG, VA.
EXCLUSIVELY OPTICAL

Pixburg

Pixburg, Feb. 6.- Services at the Presbyterian Church Sunday were conducted by Rev. J. Howard Macrae. Two new deacons were installed.

N. S. Topping, who has been sick, is improving.

Misses Barbara Hix and Lavalette, of Richmond were home this past week-end.

Mrs. C. B. Carson and son called on her mother Thursday afternoon.

Dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mrs. S. C. Drinks'l were Rev. and Mrs. J. Howard Macrae, Mrs. Joseph Terry, Misses Emily and Patty Featherston, N. R. Featherston and sgt. and Mrs. E. H. Carson.

Tom Hix is getting along nicely after having his tonsils removed last Thursday.

Ed McPhillips has been confined to his room for several days, but is improving.

The home demonstration club held an all-day meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Carl Martin. Attendance was very good considering the bitter weather and sickness in the neighborhood.

Visitors in the home of E. H. Carson during the week-end were Misses Frances Hix and Hilda McPhillips, and Watkins McPhillips, Jr.

J. S. Hix, of Thomasville, N.C. spent last week-end here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Sears and daughter, Lavalette and Mrs. H. M. Marshall were called to Statesville, N. C, Sunday because of the death of Tom Gilliam, brother of Mrs. Sears and Mrs. Marshall. Mr. Gilliam was well known here and his death came as a great shock to the neighborhood.

British Losses in War Reach 733,030

Included in Casualty List Are 136,115 Civilians.

LONDON. — The cost of Britain's five years of total war—the normal life of the nation obliterated, 1.5 per cent of the whole population casualties, the riches stored up by past generations dissipated — was described to the world recently in a government white paper.

Grim statistics told the story of the United Kingdom's war contribution:

Total casualties of 733,030, including 136,115 civilians killed and wounded and 29,023 merchant seamen killed; the export trade, basis of Britain's wealth and power—virtually abandoned; overseas gold reserves spent on war materials; one home in three damaged and one in 20 destroyed; more than 5,500 factories damaged; monotonous diet; strictly rationed clothing; high taxes.

"We have sacrificed most of our Victorian inheritance," said Minister of Information Brendan Bracken in a press conference after the release of the document. "What was the treasure of our grandfathers has gone, and it has been well and gladly sacrificed."

Britain, he said, gave up her export business at the start of the war and converted the whole of her manpower to the making and using of war goods. Her workers since have produced more than 102,000 planes, 25,000 tanks, 33,000 guns, 5,700 ships.

In five years her people have paid approximately $15,000,000,000 in income tax and other direct taxes and have loaned over to the government approximately $19,213,000,000 in personal savings.

"The Victorians," Mr. Bracken observed, "were proud to be called a nation of shopkeepers, but there never have been such shopkeepers as the British No shopkeepers ever before sold out their entire stocks in order to fight."

New Tank Destroyer M-18 Is 'Hottest' in Action

LIMA, OHIO.—The army's new tank destroyer—the M-18—is regarded by the army ordnance department officials here as "the hottest thing in today's armored warfare."

Capt. Charles R. Adkins, Columbus Grove, Ohio, an army automotive expert of 16 years' experience, who saw the M-18 in operation in France, said the vehicle "is a streamlined speed demon that put a streak of lightning in our drive across France into Germany."

The M-18, he said, has a mechanical system which permits complete installation of a new engine in less than two hours.

Captain Adkins asserted that the tank destroyer's 10 bogey wheels operate independently. "thus one broken wheel will not incapacitate the vehicle, which mounts a 76-mm. cannon."

Silences Japanese Guns By Playing Sweet Music

CHUNGKING.—"Music hath power to soothe the savage breast," the Chinese learned in the recent battle for Mytikyina.

A public address system was used to broadcast music and news to Japanese troops, who generally held their fire while the broadcasts were on.

One news report, however, apparently contained something obnoxious to the enemy, for they immediately replied with a heavy artillery barrage. A single shell burst lines grouped a called back for a ... records.

As the sound ... again did ... anese barrage was silenced.

Artillery Salvo Plays Army ... March

KORNELIMUENSTER, GERMANY.—The first American wedding in ... Germany took place here ... the following item of one of the greatest artillery actions of this war.

The bride was Lieut. Pauline Ferris, an army nurse from New Smyrna Beach, Fla., and the bridegroom, Chief Warrant Officer Charles M. Baker of Aurora, Colo.

The lieutenant was just saying "I do" in response to the officiating chaplain, Capt. George W. Zinz of Erie, Pa., when a battery of heavy United States guns let loose an earth-shaking salvo.

Lublin University Reopens

MOSCOW. — The Soviet news agency reported that the Communist university at Lublin, closed for 5 years, had held its first classes.

Nazis Take Shoes to Halt Army Desertions

WITH U. S. DIVISION, WESTERN FRONT.—An Austrian deserter told an American officer that the Germans were taking shoes from their foreign soldiers at night to prevent desertions. The shivering Austrian walked into American lines in his stocking feet and surrendered, saying he was "tired of it all."

Rocket Marvel To Jolt Nazis

New Weapon Is Hinted at in Plan for Vast Sum to Be Spent for Navy.

WASHINGTON.—The navy shortly will be spending $100,000,000 monthly on rocket ammunition alone.

Rockets have found increasing use, among others, for spraying death upon Japanese machine gunners as a cover for landing operations.

The $100,000,000 outlay, to be attained within four months, is "as much as is now being spent per month for all types of naval ammunition," said the Office of War Information in a cautiously worded report on the United States' use and development of rockets.

The army is down for about $12,000,000 monthly throughout 1945 for rocket ammunition, over and above the amount spent on the projectors themselves—tank-piercing bazookas and other rocket launchers.

Hints at Surprises.

Indication that America may have some rocket surprises in store for the Axis was given in this OWI comment: "Newest American rocket developments, including design details and the range and speed attained by the projectiles, as well as interesting figures, have not been released publicly by the military authorities."

Noting that ordnance experts have not officially reported any giant, long-range projectile like the German V-2 rocket bomb, OWI said: "American ordnance experts have concentrated on developing artillery type rockets, with emphasis on correcting the present relative inaccuracy of rocket fire."

Characterizing the rocket as "one of the principal weapon innovations of this war," OWI said it is used on seven types of American war planes —the army's Lightnings, Airacobras, Warhawks, Thunderbolts, and Mustangs, and the navy's TBF torpedo planes and the Bell manufactured jet-propelled planes.

Found Effective.

Rear Adm. Daniel E. Barbey, commander of the navy's Seventh fleet amphibious force, was quoted as reporting that rockets were "particularly effective during the crucial phase of establishing a beachhead."

"Fired from multiple deck tubes on landing craft, rockets spread destruction among waiting machine gunners as they wait for the troops to hit the beach," the report continued.

The newer 4.5 inch "M-8" rocket is roughly twice the diameter and length of the bazooka and equals in firepower the 105 mm. medium artillery gun, OWI reported. Yet its launcher costs $104 compared with $8,406 for the artillery piece.

Marine's 'Donald Duck' Voice Harangues Japs

PELELIU, PALAU ISLANDS.—The Japanese didn't know it, but when Ralph Teodoro Somuya crept up to the slits of concrete bunkers during the savage Peleliu battles and harangued them to surrender they were hearing a voice like Donald Duck's.

Soncuya, now navy pharmacist's mate first class of the first marine division, is a clever imitator of animal sound.

A native of the Philippines, Soncuya, 47, went to the United States when he was 23 and for many years was a registered pharmacist in Arkansas.

Great Britain Lifts Curb on Corset Styles

LONDON. — The government is going to get a bra—and the government isn't stretching a point to grant it.

The Board of Trade announced the ending of all restrictions on corset styles—with the exception of that limiting the use of rubber. This means the lid's off on the use of metal, cloth, lace and trimmings.

The concessions were made possible, the announcement said, by improvement in steel stocks and increased capacity in the corset accessory industry.

German Terror Reign Is Reported Inside Norway

LONDON.—A great new German terror campaign to crush resistance in Norway was reported by the Norwegian government. A government spokesman said the Germans were making mass arrests to begin an attempted "crushing blow" to Norwegian patriots.

The Norwegians were told that "by careful thought, cool calculation, and discipline we shall smash the attack." The warning said it was "urgently necessary" that all patriots who might be caught should immediately go into hiding.

Don't Take Teeth Out Is Latest German Order

WITH THE THIRD U. S. ARMY.—Orders captured from a panzer grenadier division disclosed the German high command is placing a heavy penalty on "shirkers" in the front line who deliberately break their false teeth or their glass eye so that they might avoid combat duty.

"False teeth must not be taken out except for cleaning purposes," the order said.

Rocks News

Rocks, Feb. 6.- Farmers are not plowing much now because of the very cold weather last week, but they are busy getting fire wood.

Mrs. Purcell Hamlett and daughter and J. W. Dickerson called in the home of Mrs. W. F. Rawson last Sunday night.

Quite a number from Rocks went to Evergreen Tuesday night to hear Rev. L. E. Daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Ranson and daughter spent Sunday afternoon with his mother, Mrs. W. F. Ranson.

Mrs. D. R. Inge and Mr. and Mrs. Coby Inge went to Lynchburg recently.

Mrs. Purcell Hamlett and daughter returned o Phenix Monday.

Little Daniel Holt Dickerson was taken ill Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Dickerson took their little son to Lynchburg last Wednesday to the hospital Mrs. Dickerson remained with him.

Joy and Mrs. L. K. Armentrout from their son las week. He was well.

L. E. Dickerson took John Chernault and J. W. Dickerson to Appomattox Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Richard Inge, of Lynchburg, spent the week-end with Mrs. D. R. Inge, of Pamplin.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Dickerson will soon move to Rockmead. We regre to see them leave our community, They have sold their farm here.

Rev. W. M. Black, of Pamplin, will preach at Rocks acon the third Sunday morning, at noon.

It is estimated that 1,000 cars per day are being ...nked in U.S.

There will be a post-ho demand for possibly ... ill a new cars in America at end of war.

Coal shortage severe in several northern states.

AT FIRST SIGN OF A COLD USE 666
Cold Preparations as directed.

Quality is Economy
Buckingham Flynn
919 MAIN ST. LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA.

AT YOUR SERVICE
All business trans ctions should be conducted in a business-like manner.
May we suggest for SAFETY, ECONOMY and CONVENIENCE the services of our SPECIAL CHECKING ACCOUNT.
The size of your accou it is immaterial. You may open one with as little as $5.00. Do it today. We will be pleased to serve you.
A GOOD BANK - IN A GOOD TOWN - FOR EVERYBODY
The Bank of Appomattox
MEMBER F. D. I. C.

"Tell him we're cutting pulpwood!"

"I SEE here in the paper that General Somervell says, 'We would rather fire a ton of munitions than lose a single American soldier'.

"That's the way I like to hear our generals talk because that 'single soldier' might be our boy. So when the government says the shortage of pulpwood may hold up the supply of munitions, I'm going to cut every darn stick I can.

"You just tell the boy to keep on doing his best over there and we'll do our best to back him up over here."

VICTORY PULPWOOD COMMITTEE
R. B. HUDGINS
O. T. JAMERSON
W. C. OULD
C. H. ROBINSON
US VICTORY PULPWOOD CAMPAIGN

Life's Like That

By FRED NEHER

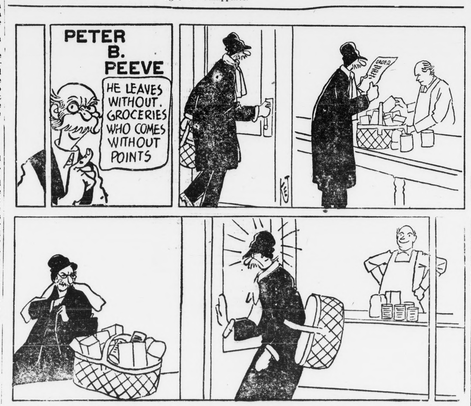
Bring your country produce to Appomattox.

There are over 1500 miles of railroad trackage in the greater Berlin area.

MOPSY

By GLADYS PARKER

Berlin greatly damaged in recent Allied air raids.

Japanese resistance unexpectedly high in Philippines.


PETER B. PEEVE